DEMOCRATS ARE GATHERING FOR STATE MEETING

McAdoo and Underwood Forces Hard at Work

MEET TOMORROW

National Campaign Chairman for McAdoo to Be in Lexington For Convention This Week

By Associated Press.
LEXINGTON, May 13.—Democratic leaders from all sections of the state began today to lay plans for the state convention here to-morrow. Hundreds of supporters of William G. McAdoo and Senator Oscar Underwood, rival candidates for presidential endorsement, were among the early arrivals, energetically shaping their battle plans. It is the aim of McAdoo's friends to get a solidly instructed delegation while the Underwood strategy will be directed toward an uninstructed delegation.

KNOXVILLE, May 13.—David Rockwell, national campaign chairman for William G. McAdoo, left here today for Louisville en route to the Kentucky state Democratic convention in Lexington to-morrow. McAdoo was with him but he will go on to Flint, Mich., to address the Michigan state convention to-morrow. Rockwell predicted the selection of a McAdoo delegation from Tennessee to the national convention.

Developing Grounds Murray Norma School

FRANKFORT, May 13.—Development of the Murray Norma School was started today. McHenry Rhoads, superintendent of public instruction announced.

E. C. Whiting, special artist and W. E. Gore, architect, Louisville, have been employed, he said, and the program calls for ten year's development.

"The new administration building, provided for by the 1924 legislature, will be ready for occupancy by July 1," he said. "The Board of Regents went over the plans for a unit system and had the special artist go over the 33 acres of the grounds. He will plot every tree and shrub to be placed in conformity with the unit system."

He advocated the unit system, Supt. Rhoads said, because it leads to collegiate uniformity and beauty, harmony and grace.

"Kentucky, according to plans of the present board of education, will have beautiful school grounds in years to come through a sensible and sensitive touch to the major principles of architectural art."

England's smallest borough is Montgomery, with 951 inhabitants. In the world are in America.

HONEYCUP PLANT RESUMES MONDAY

Ice Cream Factory Machinery Not Damaged by Fire as Much as Thought

The Honeycup Ice Cream company which was the scene of a big fire last week will resume operation Monday, according to plans announced today by Judge J. L. Manning, president of the firm.

The machinery was not damaged nearly so badly as was first thought. A factory representative is here today making a thorough examination of the machinery. It thought that none of the machinery will have to be replaced and it is not likely that any new parts will be necessary.

The fire has caused no interruption in service to patrons of the ice cream firm. Arrangements were made with a Knoxville firm to fill orders here immediately after the fire, a service which was greatly appreciated by patrons.

The Kentucky Utilities company, owner of the building, will have completed the temporary roof Thursday, it is thought. Work in the cream plant will begin Friday or Saturday and regular business will be resumed Monday.

NEW STATE LABOR BOARD MEETING

Particularly For Purpose of Naming Man For Chief Labor Inspector

FRANKFORT, May 13.—The new State Labor Board will hold a meeting here on Wednesday, May 21, in the office of Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics, Clell Coleman, announced today.

This is for the purpose of holding an examination for the office of Chief of Labor Inspector, which office was created by the 1924 General Assembly," he said. "This law stipulates that the qualifications of the Chief Labor Inspector shall be good knowledge of shop and factory practice, industrial sanitation, accident prevention, the general development of the state and the labor laws of the state; a good moral character; executive ability; and a resident of Kentucky two years next prior to his appointment."

Labor laws pertaining to factory inspection, women's working law and child labor law are under the present commissioner, Mr. Coleman.

COMMUNITY CHEST TO BE ADVERTISED

Public to Be Instructed of Fund's Merits Before Drive, May 27

Plans for an advertising campaign by which every man, woman and child in Middlesboro will be instructed in the importance of supporting the Community Chest were made by the advertising committee of the organization last night.

The advertising this year will consist, to a large degree, in merely bringing to the public's attention the splendid work accomplished by the Community Chest during the past year. All the beneficiaries of it have been able to adequately provide for all their expenses and to progress in their work on account of the monthly allowances from the Community Chest. Letters from these organizations will form the very best kind of advertising.

In addition to these, there will be screen slides at the Manning theater, huge banners across the public streets, banners on automobiles, special four-minute speakers at the theater on various phases of the work, announcement made in all churches, lodges and other civic organizations and special leaflets and letters. On May 27, the day of the drive, there will be one of the biggest street parades that has ever appeared in Middlesboro and this will march along a number of streets in the residential sections.

Judge Gilbert Named Special Whitley Judge

By Associated Press.
FRANKFORT, May 13.—Governor Fields appointed Judge J. M. Gilbert, Pineville, special judge of the Whitley Circuit Court to sit Monday, May 12, due to illness of regular Judge R. F. Rose.

Governor Fields appointed F. G. Fields, Justice of the Peace, Third District, Jackson County, to succeed R. W. Roder, resigned.

BANK ROBBERS GIVEN 20 YEARS

Jury Gives Hazard Holdup Men Limit of Law for Robbery

HAZARD, May 13.—Lawrence and Bradley Harp, brothers, were given twenty years each in the state prison by a jury in the circuit court Tuesday morning for the robbery of the bank at Vico in March. The robbers took $17,000, but most of this was recovered.

The Harp boys had no lawyer. They were promptly indicted and had no plea save that of being guilty. Lawrence Harp asked the jury for mercy. His pleas were evidently not convincing. The jury gave each one all that the law allows. The provisions of the law make the penalty from three to twenty years.

They took their sentence calmly. On the way back to the jail one of them remarked that the jury certainly was merciful.

WOMEN HEAR THINGS THIS CITY NEEDS

Club Program Yesterday on Civic Improvement

FIVE VIEWPOINTS

Mrs. Hinks Announces Last Meeting of Year May 27 When Executive Board Will Be Hostesses

What Middlesboro needs, from several viewpoints, was told at the Woman's Club meeting yesterday afternoon in a very interesting program prepared by the Community Section of the Club. Mrs. F. P. Seales, chairman of the section, had charge of the program.

Mrs. D. G. Hinks, club president, opened the meeting with several announcements. She told of the appointment of Mrs. C. K. Brosheer as district American Citizenship chairman. She told of the excellent meeting in Harrogate last week and then announced this club's next meeting, the last of the year, at which time the Middlesboro Club, the Nancy Hanks Club and the Pineville Club will be guests of the executive board. Mrs. Hugh Allen, secretary, read the report from this club that will be made to the district president.

Mrs. Seales then took charge of the program which opened with two splendid numbers by Prof. John Surman's orchestra of young musicians, "Coronation March" by Meyerbeer, and "Barcarolle."

The Rev. A. B. Reeves, first speaker of the afternoon, made an excellent talk on that the churches think Middlesboro needs. First, he said they need to realize the place of faith in the building of a community and in this understanding that the church is where faith is nourished and cultured. Then he said, the city needs a more friendly and neighborly feeling among the churches for as long as a jealous, unchristlike spirit exists in them, society will feel it. And last, he said, the city needs a motto from a church view to live up to, showing Middlesboro as a religious place.

Needs in Schools

Mrs. Ray Moss, speaking next, brought out the same keynote of faith in telling what the schools think Middlesboro needs. She said that all that was really plastic in this city passes through the school's doors each day and that here were molded the child's habits and ideals, making or ruining his whole life. In connection with this, then, she stressed the importance of children staying in school that they may get the education they will need to cope with the more educated classes of the next generation. Then she emphasized the necessity of forming habits of punctuality, declaring that tardiness in school children is unforgivable and entirely unnecessary.

C. A. Blackburn, president of the Kiwanis Club, followed saying that although the city needed many things he believed it needed most better care of the underprivileged child, not only primarily for the child's sake but for the sake of society in the next generation. "The physically maimed always gain sympathy," he said, "but there are many children here in moral danger that is graver than any physical danger." He then outlined the five things that he thought were most needed for the underprivileged, as follows: A health service that extends over the entire community; a complete system of playgrounds and parks for all; abolition of child labor; a hearty welcome to the homespun lad when he comes into town; and a paternal spirit in business men to the children of the town.

More Interest in Politics

Mrs. Warren Rash, speaking next, emphasized the need in Middlesboro of an active League of Women Voters, women organized to think and act for the political betterment of their community and country. She brought out that intelligent voting was not only the privilege but the duty of every woman and urged the importance of a more active interest in civic affairs. She maintained that law enforcement in this city should be more the business of the mothers than any one else and that time taken from household duties for the moral

Mother of Nine On Way To Dying Husband Injured

BOWLING GREEN, May 13.—Tragic coincidence laid a heavy hand on the family of George Steele, 45 years old, oil-well driller, living between Settle and Ganeville, in Allen County.

Part of a drilling rig fell and struck Steele when he was removing tools from a well, fracturing his skull and causing his death a short time later. Mrs. Steele, notified of the accident, started for the scene in an automobile driven by Earl Taber. When driving over a road recently opened the machine skidded and turned over. The driver and passenger were thrown out, Mrs. Steele sustaining a skull fracture. She is not expected to recover.

There are nine small children in the family.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH REVIVAL CLOSES

Twenty-two Additions to Church in Meetings—Religious Life of City Helped

Dr. D. W. Scott of Ashland closed the revival that he was holding for the Rev. A. B. Reeves at the Christian Church Sunday night. A great audience heard his last sermon at the close of which three came forward to accept Christ. Twenty-two were added to the church, sixteen of whom were conversions.

In his closing message Dr. Scott urged the church to go on with their new building and get ready as quickly as possible for a greater program of work for the future.

Middlesboro has seldom heard a more dignified and manly message. Dr. Scott while condemning sin does so in a Godly way. He never dealt in personalities. While preaching strongly what his church stands for he so respected the feelings of other churches that he gave no offense. With such a broad-minded, Christlike message the Christian Church has been greatly strengthened and the whole religious life of Middlesboro has been helped.

Dr. Scott left Sunday night for his home in Ashland and Miss Kathryn Warrenier, the singer, left Monday for her home in Danville.

REVIVAL STARTS WITH FULL HOUSE

Lexington Evangelist Preaches Fine Sermon On Prayer—Music by Girl Trio

The revival at the M. E. Church South started off with a capacity audience last night and indications are that a successful evangelistic campaign will result.

The Rev. M. T. Chandler, Lexington minister in charge of the services, preached on the subject, "Prayer," on the opening night of the meeting, quoting a number of scriptural passages as a foundation for his discourse. He emphasized the importance of communion with God in every day life, declaring that this is more important than a thorough knowledge of theology.

The Grayson Trio won the hearts of the congregation with their special number, "The Beautiful Land." The girls have voices of unusual quality and ably demonstrated their ability as song leaders as well as specialty singers.

welfare of the city where their children were being raised was time well spent.

Mrs. J. T. Alderson, representing the Music Club, was the last speaker and she brought out the important need for more music here. Nothing promotes a better spirit, she said, than music in a community. She spoke particularly of musical education in the schools, urging the public to cooperate with the city's music teachers and help them to develop the esthetic side of their children's natures. True appreciation of music, she brought out, brings with it a love for beauty and of all the better things in life.

C. E. Cooke, S. M. Beams and Dr. R. E. Douglas, scheduled as the other speakers of the afternoon, were not there.

CONVENTION OF DEMOCRATS TO BE JAZZY ONE

G. O. P. Meet Is Sure To Be Cut and Dried

ALL FOR COOLIDGE

Other Party Uncertain of Choice—Smith, McAdoo and Underwood All Going Strong

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
WASHINGTON, May 13.—Coolidge is no name for what the Republican presidential nomination is going to be this year.

There may have been conventions when everybody knew just as well in advance whom the nominee would be—for instance 1904, when Roosevelt was named. But the candidate's personality stirred up enthusiasm then. Coolidge isn't the kind of individual anybody can enthuse over much. There'll be hollering, of course, but it will be a perfunctory sort.

There'll be a certain amount of rivalry for the vice presidential nomination, but that's always comparatively mild.

It won't be an uninteresting convention, for all that. There'll be little excitement about the nominations, but about the platform there may be a lot.

The old guard and the progressives aren't going to agree. Naturally the old guard leaders don't admit it, but they're not a bit sure Coolidge will be elected if there's a third party in the field.

Just as long as the regulars think there's the least chance of pleasing the progressive crowd they'll be as nice to the latter as they know how. The progressives will say unkind things, but soft answers are all they'll get—until and not until the regulars make up their minds there positively isn't the scintilla of a hope of avoiding a break.

Then somebody is going to get cussed out.

If that doesn't happen and if it doesn't furnish an incident to go thundering down into history as one of the hottest that any convention ever saw—why, experienced politicians are missing their guess.

For all that the Republican nominations probably will lack in jazz, the Democrats will more than make up.

They think—just as the Republicans really do—that the Democratic candidate stands a pretty fair fighting chance.

True, there's a possibility of a Democratic as well as a Republican break and an extra ticket, but it isn't more than a mere possibility—it isn't quite a strong probability, as on the Republican side.

Hence the Democratic nomination is powerfully in demand, with not nearly enough of a supply to go round.

Al Smith's, McAdoo's and Underwood's respective groups of friends all say their man has a cinch. Unprejudiced politicians do generally agree that they'll be the leading candidates at first, but not many of the unprejudiced ones—believe any of the three can win.

The men most frequently mentioned as victors on a compromise basis are Senator Ralston of Indiana and John W. Davis of West Virginia. The betting on them isn't heavy.

There are too many possibilities that the winner may be a much darker horse than either one. Still as bets go, according to experts, Ralston and Davis are about the best.

FAVOR PROBE OF RAILROAD RATES

L. C. C. Instructed to Look Into Matter With View of General Readjustment

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 13.—The House Commerce Committee today ordered a favorable report on the Hoch resolution to direct the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate the railroad-rate structure with a view to general readjustment. The resolution asserts that there are now many injustices, inequalities and discriminations which tend to prevent natural development of the country and impose undue burdens on various commodities. It instructs the Commission to give, due regard to the general market levels of various commodities.

LOCAL MEN GO TO BAPTIST MEETING

Rev. Martin and Rev. Browning to Attend Convention in Atlanta

Middlesboro will be represented at the Southern Baptist convention which convenes at Atlanta to-morrow. The First Baptist church is sending the Rev. Sam P. Martin, pastor, and the Second Baptist church is sending the Rev. J. G. Browning to attend the meet.

Plans for the completion during the present calendar year of the 75-Million Campaign will be the principal matter to be taken up at the convention. The five year program for missions, education and benevolences projected here in 1919 also will be another of the outstanding features.

Among the other important matters that will be considered at this time are the next forward program to follow—the completion of the 75-Million Campaign; the closer correlation of the activities of the convention, the proposition to reclaim George Washington University at Washington as a Baptist institution; the taking over by the convention of the Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth and development of the plans for the Southwide Baptist hospital at New Orleans which will represent an investment of $2,000,000.

Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the convention for the past three years and now president of the Baptist World Alliance, has announced that he will not stand for reelection this year, having completed three years of service. This will necessitate the election of a new executive which will be the first chief item of business on this year's program.

The convention will be preceded on Tuesday night by a special program given to laymen's work, when every feature of denominational activity will be discussed from the layman's point of view.

The Woman's Missionary Union, representing the organized activities of the Southern Baptist women, will likewise be in session in Atlanta the same week.

Chaplin Urges Common Sense View on Matters—Divorce Hit By Church

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 13.—Chaplain W. W. Edell of the United States navy today presented the greeting of the navy chaplains to the delegates at the Methodist general conference and urged them to take a common sense and patriotic stand on war. "If you are going to take the support of the church from the military service," he said, "you are going to leave 150,000 men in the navy without your ministry."

The Methodist conference endorsed the report declaring unlawful a marriage of divorced persons other than the innocent party in a divorce for infidelity.

Congressman Does Not Intend to Resign Unless House Committee Removes Him Attorney Says

COVINGTON, May 13.—Congressman John W. Langley of the Tenth District, Kentucky, was sentenced to two years in the Federal prison at Atlanta by Federal Judge A. M. J. Cochran here this afternoon.

LOCAL MEN GO TO BAPTIST MEETING

By Associated Press.
COVINGTON, May 13.—Attorneys representing Congressman John W. Langley, found guilty by jury in Federal Court last night on charge of conspiring to sell and transport liquor, appeared before Judge A. M. J. Cochran today and announced that they would appeal the case. The judge gave them until 1 o'clock today to prepare the motion. The counsel for Milton Lipschutz of Philadelphia, also found guilty with Langley, likewise announced their intention of appealing.

The jury returned its verdict of guilty last night after deliberating three hours and forty minutes. They disagreed on Albert S. Slater, the third defendant. The maximum sentence for conviction is two years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine, but Judge Cochran intimated that the fine would be omitted. Langley, his attorneys announced, would not resign his seat in Congress and remain in his office unless the House committee at Washington removes him. It is expected, however, that the committee will take no action until Langley has finished his case in the courts. Testimony at the trial disclosed Langley planned to enter the primary in August seeking the Republican nomination for United States senator. What action he will take now is not known.

Committee Considered Case. By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 13.—The case of Representative Langley, found guilty in Covington last night, was taken up today by the house committee named to investigate charges against him. Chairman Burton refused to predict what action might be taken pending Langley's appeal to higher courts. Burton said he understood Langley would not participate in any of his duties as a House member and that temporarily he had turned over to Representative Elliott, Republican, of Indiana, the chairmanship of the public buildings committee.

WORK CENTERS ON EAST END STREETS

To Rush Repairs to Completion—All But Asphalt in West End Finished

The entire force of the Humbert Construction company is being centered on the East End work in order that the remaining part may be completed and repairs finished on the paving laid last year.

Eighteenth street between Cumberland and Lothbury avenues is being graded as is also the block of Cumberland avenue between Eighteenth street and Fitzpatrick avenue. Heavy machinery of the construction company is in operation on these two blocks and large crews of men are employed there. Another crew is busy taking up the asphalt at defective places in the pavement on East Cumberland preparatory to spreading new asphalt there.

The work has been completed in the West End, with the exception of laying the asphalt and this will be done after the base is sufficiently hardened.

GOOD ADVICE OF A MURDERER

Almost like a voice from the tomb comes an admonition to young people from Frank Thomas, aged Kentucky man, a few minutes before his death in the electric chair for murder. The advice, if followed, would curtail crime and practically render prisons and death chairs objects unnecessary to advanced civilization.

"I came from one of the best families in the state of Kentucky," the condemned man declared. "The statement lends support to the theory that environment has more direct bearing on young lives than heredity."

"Young people, keep out of bad company and obey your mother and father," he continues and later adds: "Mother, watch your children and see what kind of company they keep."

The solution to the age-long question of restraining young children in their natural desires is contained in two simple words—parental discipline. Statistics prove that practically all criminals began lives of sin while under parental influence. Negligent, and oftentimes fondly indulgent, parents allow their influence to become overshadowed by that of bad associates until it is humanly impossible to check the child's criminal tendencies.

Pee Gee MASTIC PAINT

Paint Stops Decay Reduces Repair Bills

It is a pretty well known fact that paint is a preservative. What science has preached, experience has confirmed. Paint used at regular intervals, is a relentless foe of decay, which, if unopposed, is certain. It lessens the upkeep of your property and reduces repairs to a minimum.

Pee Gee Mastic Paint has been on the firing line over half a century protecting homes, barns, and outbuildings. Its great covering capacity and long years of service have become a proverb—"Wear like Mastic." You hear it whenever good paint is talked of. Retains its luster long after ordinary paints have "gone dead."

L. M. U. NINE WINS FROM KY. NORMAL

Final Score 4 to 3 Registered When Earl Wilson Makes Home Run

HARROGATE, May 13.—L. M. U.'s baseball nine won from Eastern Kentucky State Normal Monday afternoon in a hard-fought game in which the final score registered 4-3. "Mule" Brown's assortment of balls had the visitors baffled from start to finish and retired ten men by the strike-out route. Hayes pitched for the Normal, losing fourteen hits. The score stood 3-1 in favor of the Normalites until the fifth inning when Earl Wilson, for L. M. U., annexed a home-run thereby scoring three men. The score:

Cincinnati Man Delights Audience at Conservatory Last Night—Subject, Sincerity

HARROGATE, May 13.—Hon. Myers Y. Cooper, of Cincinnati, who with Mrs. Cooper has been a guest of Lincoln Memorial University for several days, addressed an enthusiastic audience in the Conservatory last night.

His introduction was drawn from an inimitable found of wit and humor which captured his audience. In his speech he told the students that no business man will throw his money into waste places. He wants to be sure that there will be dividends. "You boys and girls are the dividends accruing from the money paid into this University," he said.

The three points he especially stressed were: Learn to think, then think to learn. Be sincere: remember that sincerity is the greatest stock in trade of any man. No crook, shyster, trickster or confidence man has succeeded in any business for long. Be honest: there is no room in any department of business for the dishonest man. There is no room in politics, no matter the party, for dishonesty.

Dr. Matthews followed the speaker of the evening with some earnest words stressing the point, which he said had inspired Mr. Cooper's wonderful success, sincerity.

Lyceum Last Week at Ewing Is Success

EWING, Va., May 13.—The Piedmont Lyceum Festival which ended Friday evening was quite a success. The Hammond company and the Kellam Duo were quite as interesting as the two previously mentioned programs. Mr. Kellam and Miss Lowry, of the last named company, had appeared here a few years ago and had then made many friends who were glad to see and hear them again.

The pageant, "The Gift of the Nations," given Friday evening by local children under the training of Miss Landor, assisted on the last day by Mrs. Scott, was very pretty and well staged.

The Children's Story Hour which has been conducted during the past week by Miss Landor of the Piedmont company will be continued by Mrs. W. F. Jones who has volunteered for this work.

Every one should be glad to learn that the festival has been contracted for next year.

EWING NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Kincaid went to Louisville the last of the week where Mrs. Kincaid has undergone an operation at the hospital there. She is reported as improving.

The Shoffner of Shawnee, was a business visitor Saturday.

The Ladies' Aid Society conducted a rummage sale Friday and Saturday in the R. J. Fulkerson store room.

Miss Virginia Fugate and Miss Celia Warren Shifley spent the weekend with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Fugate.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. McDaniel and family and Miss Anna Kate Morley motored to Knoxville Friday. On their return they visited with relatives at Tazewell, Tenn.

R. W. Suffridge has been on a very successful fishing trip to Powell's River this week.

Mrs. C. T. Cowan has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rowlett, this week.

Miss Mary Gibson and Prof. R. C. Frazier were painfully but not seriously injured when their car ran into the wall of a concrete bridge near Pennington Gap. The car was badly damaged.

Mrs. D. E. Pierce of Rose Hill has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Hattie Fulkerson, this week.

"More Time"

ASK FOR IT. DON'T "TAKE" IT.

Just because you can let an account run for sixty or even ninety days before the merchant you owe begins to "bother" you much about a payment, it is not wise to do so. Whenever you need "more time" to pay an account, by all means ask for it.

Almost always you will find the credit man quite willing to accommodate you. Of course if you should make a practice of asking such extensions you would find him not so agreeable, but now and then you will find him altogether pleasant to deal with. When you see him and let him know you are going to pay up when you can, he knows where to place you.

He does not have to send you extra bills and spend time and money sending you collection letters and getting collectors to see you. It costs real money to collect over-due bills. That is a reason for asking extensions. Not having to make special efforts on old accounts saves money, and in a measure offsets the store's loss on not having the use of the money the bill represents.

Many people sometimes find "more time" necessary. It can be obtained by ignoring bills and letters and "stalling off" collectors, but every sixty or ninety days gained that way is at the cost of your credit rating. It is much better to "tote fair" and you'll find a general disposition to meet you half way.

GOOD ADVICE OF A MURDERER

Almost like a voice from the tomb comes an admonition to young people from Frank Thomas, aged Kentuckian, a few minutes before his death in the electric chair for murder. The advice, if followed, would curtail crime and practically render prisons and death chairs objects unnecessary to advanced civilization.

"I came from one of the best families in the state of Kentucky," the condemned man declared. "The statement lends support to the theory that environment has more direct bearing on young lives than heredity. 'Young people, keep out of bad company and obey your mother and father,' he continues and later adds: 'Mother, watch your children and see what kind of company they keep.'"

The solution to the age-long question of restraining young children in their natural desires is contained in two simple words—parental discipline. Statistics prove that practically all criminals began lives of sin while under parental influence. Negligent, and oftentimes fondly indulgent, parents allow their influence to become overshadowed by that of bad associates until it is humanly impossible to check the child's criminal tendencies.

Pee Gee MASTIC PAINT

Paint Stops Decay Reduces Repair Bills

It is a pretty well known fact that paint is a preservative. What science has preached, experience has confirmed. Paint used at regular intervals, is a relentless foe of decay, which, if unopposed, is certain. It lessens the upkeep of your property and reduces repairs to a minimum.

Pee Gee Mastic Paint has been on the firing line over half a century protecting homes, barns, and outbuildings. Its great covering capacity and long years of service have become a proverb—"Wear like Mastic." You hear it whenever good paint is talked of. Retains its luster long after ordinary paints have "gone dead."

Scored Ice

Your Protection against Short Weight

As another step in our efforts to protect our customers and assure them that they will GET ALL the ICE THEY PAY FOR, our drivers will hereafter, only deliver ice that has been MACHINE SCORED before leaving our factory, thus assuring FULL WEIGHT at all times.

SCORED ICE marked at the factory eliminates the old haphazard guesswork of the driver, guarantees uniform size and full weight, saves time and labor in handling with the result that the public receive more prompt and efficient service.

Though the driver be honest, he is not infallible and oft-times with the best intentions, his guess in subdividing a 300 or 400 pound cake of ICE into 25 and 50 pound pieces, by the old chopping method, results in underweight, while the dishonest driver reaps a harvest at the expense of the CUSTOMER and ICE MANUFACTURER through short weight.

SCORED ICE with its border on the edge of each piece is our guarantee of full weight and protects you from carelessness and dishonesty, assuring and guaranteeing 100% delivery on the ICE you pay for.

In place of getting just a formless chunk of ICE, doubtful in weight, look for the SCORED BORDER along the edge of each piece of ICE. It is your protection.
